Pharr: Patrick Isai Martinez, 22, passed away on Monday, September 20, 2021, at DHR in Edinburg due to complications from Covid.

On August 10, 1999, Patrick was born to Patricio Martinez and Maria del Carmen Vega in McAllen, Texas. Patrick grew up in Pharr and was active on the PSJA football team during his high school years.

Patrick was a talented welder and was always striving to improve his welding skills, earning his Welding Certificate from South Texas College, along with his Associate's Degree in 2017. In addition, he was a great cook and worked for the Bistro Kitchen at Cinemark Theatre, where he loved to learn new recipes.

Pat's hobbies included gaming, cooking, movies, and spending time with his family. He loved to game on his PlayStation, and his favorite game was Destiny. His favorite way to cook was with a cast-iron skillet, and one of his famous recipes was Gochujang Chicken.

Patrick was a practical, easy-going guy. He didn't like drama or stress. Patrick's friendships were selective but very genuine. He was honest and very protective of his little brother Cruz.

Patrick is preceded in death by his father, Patricio Martinez, who passed away ten days earlier from cancer. Patrick is survived by his mom, Maria de Carmen Vega, sisters, Dulce Martinez (Andres), Marcelina Martinez (Eduardo), Giselle Trujillo, and Brihanna Patricia Martinez, brothers, Cruz Martinez and Narcisso "Natito" Martinez, and his beloved German shepherd, Tyson.

I was a friend at LBJ Middle School. We had class together from 6th through 8th. This was the only photo I had of him in 6th. This day was when we were able to slack off and play games, so we all brought our DS and played Mario Kart all day. I played football with him. He was also a lineman and was always right next to me.
