Uncle Don was a great person who I will miss dearly. My fondest memories are growing up and looking forward to the yearly summer visits. The energy that surrounded him was infectious. A regret I have is not heeding his advice when I was 10-13 years old. The message was clear, if you want chest hair you have to eat horseradish on your sandwiches!\n\nAlthough I remember many things that he said, the saying is true that you are not remembered for what you say, but you are remembered for how you make people feel. Don always made me feel special by making our time together his top priority and showing me that he cared. \n\nThanks for all the great times, Uncle Don.\n
